

DR. SCOTT'S FUNERAL.

The Services at the White House Simple But Impressive—The Funeral at Washington, Pa., To-day.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1.—For the second time within five weeks the white house wears the emblems of mourning for one of the members of the President's private family, and in the spacious East room where only a short time ago lay the body of Mrs. Harrison, there reposed the remains of her aged father awaiting the funeral rites of the church ere they are consigned to the grave. The body of the Rev. Dr. Scott was brought down stairs this morning to the East room and placed in the center to await the services. Around the room palms and potted plants of a dark hue of green were arranged. A great many floral tributes were grouped around the casket. The services commencing at 3 o'clock were very simple and were conducted by Rev. T. H. Hamlin, of the Church of the Covenant. There was a prayer, the reading of verses from the Scripture, a short address by the pastor and singing by a quartette from Dr. Hamlin's church.

The honorary pall bearers were Secretaries John W. Foster and Noble, Attorney General Miller, Postmaster General Wanamaker, Justice Strong (retired), of the United States supreme court, Judge Wylie, Samuel Shellabarger and Dr. W. H. H. Warren, of the pension office. The body bearers were chosen from the ushers of the white house. Shortly before 7 o'clock this evening the body was borne to the railroad station and the funeral party left the city in a special train for Washington, Pa., which will be reached early tomorrow morning. The body will be taken to the house of Mr. Joshua Wright, an old friend and relative of Dr. Scott's. About an hour later the remains will be taken to the cemetery and interred after a very brief service at the grave.

The funeral party will return to the city at once and expect to arrive in Washington about midnight tomorrow. The members of the party will be the President, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harrison, Mrs. McKee, Lieutenant and Mrs. Parker and Russell Scott. The honorary pall bearers will not go with the funeral train.

NARROW ESCAPE OF THE JUDGE.

A Slight Mistake Saved Him from Indictment Under His Own Instructions.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 1.—The sensation caused by the arrest of a half dozen prominent people who had been indicted by the grand jury on the charge of renting houses to be used as dives and bawdy houses, was increased when it was learned that had it not been for a mistake of the grand jury as to the ownership of certain property, the judge to whom the indictments were returned might also have been indicted. The judge is Silas Woodson, ex-governor of Missouri. His nephew, Stephen Woodson, president of the Saxton National Bank, was indicted on the supposition that he owned property on the corner of Fourth and Francis streets, and a portion of which, it is alleged, is occupied by street walkers.

An investigation of the county records showed that the property was owned by Judge Woodson. His nephew, Stephen Woodson, admitted the fact but declared that he was the agent for it, and that his uncle knew nothing about the people who occupied it. Had the grand jury been cognizant of the fact when making the investigation it would undoubtedly have indicted the judge who has just charged it as its duty. It is now believed that the grand jury was spurred on to make these investigations by the charge of Judge Woodson, who particularly impressed on the members the necessity of looking after gamblers and bawdy house keepers. All these indicted have been placed under bonds.

AT HOMESTEAD.

Matters Assuming Their Old Shape—Shipments Up to the Standard.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Dec. 1.—It is said on good authority that there is an average of five new men leaving the mill daily and if this is kept up any great length of time there will be a large number of vacancies to fill. To-day the Carnegie Steel Company shipped two car loads of coils, pillows and blankets to a second hand store in Pittsburgh, and there is more to follow. The store of the union supply company at the steel works has passed into the hands of Adolph Doer, who will run the grocery in connection with the meat business. Yesterday the Carnegie Steel Company received at the works ninety-three car loads of raw and unfinished material. The highest amount received during the strike was 105 car loads. The shipments from the works are almost up to the standard, which is convincing proof that the men inside of the great steel works are not idle.

Burke was arrested to-day for stealing seven finely upholstered chairs from the Barnum Democratic Club, of which he is a member. The chairs were found in a restaurant, where he had sold them. Burke had been sleeping in the club room.

Calumet Iron Works to Resume.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—The Calumet iron and steel works on the Calumet river, near Cummings, has been sold to a syndicate of Cleveland men and work will be resumed, after having lain idle for the last year. A. M. Wilcox, of the firm of Cleveland, Brown & Co., is at the head of the syndicate, and he has been elected its president. The purchase is in the neighborhood of $500,000. The original cost of the land and dockage, with the plant, is said to have been $2,000,000.

Yuenling Brewery's Troubles.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Mr. Samuel Untermeyer, who is acting as counsel for the D. G. Yuenling Brewing Company, and for Mr. Yuenling, was interviewed to-day concerning the reports as to the troubles of the Yuenling brewery. He stated that the present condition of the company is really due to the state of affairs existing five years ago, when the company was reorganized. It owed about $270,000 on mortgages, and about $1,400,000 in other ways. Receivers were appointed so that the whole concern was threatened with ruin.

"I then called a meeting of the creditors and put before them a plan for reorganization under which the company was formed. The mortgages of $270,000 on the property were to remain, and a mortgage bond was made to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company for $1,500,000. The creditors took these bonds at par as payment of their debts. By the terms of these bonds they became due in January next. The company's main difficulty lay in the fact that it had this enormous debt of $1,700,000, and that the mortgages were due."

A HARDENED CRIMINAL.

"Let Her Go," Were Murderer Olsen's Last Words on the Scaffold.

DORCHESTER, N. B., Dec. 1.—Robert, alias "Buck" Olsen was hanged in the jail yard here this morning, for the murder of Policeman Joseph Steadman, in Moncton, August 1, 1892. Radcliffe was the executioner.

At 9 o'clock Radcliffe entered the corridors of the jail and Olsen was pinioned. He had previously shaken hands with the prison officials. He was then conducted to the jail yard, and at 9:45 the noose was adjusted and the weight dropped, the condemned man being jerked upward from the ground. As the black cap was being adjusted Olsen, said to the hangman: "Let her go." He left a confession with his lawyer, David Grant, which will reveal his true name and a history of his life.

MONCTON, N. B., Dec. 1.—The following is the story of the crime for which "Buck" Olsen was hanged to-day:

While the police were attempting to arrest two supposed burglars in a house of ill repute on August 1, Policeman J. E. Steadman was shot dead. Two men were noticed around town on the afternoon of that day, and as the police had been warned to be on the lookout for burglars, Marshal Foster, learning that the two men were at the Donnelly house, repaired there with four men to arrest them.

On their arrival Steadman was stationed at the front door. Marshal Foster entered the house. One of the girls sang out, "Here comes Foster." The two burglars immediately made a dash for the back door. The first man to come out was faced by Steadman. The burglars at once drew pistols and began firing. The other officers hurried to the scene and found Steadman engaged in a struggle with one of the burglars. He had been shot, but managed to hold his man until Policeman Scott arrived, when the ruffian was knocked down and handcuffed. Steadman sank to the ground and died five minutes later. The burglar arrested was shot in the leg, which is supposed to have been done by Steadman. The other burglar escaped. The jury found a verdict of wilful murder against the prisoner, who said he was a Norwegian sailor and that his name was "Buck" Olsen.

STARTLING REVELATIONS

In the Investigation of the Maverick Bank Affair—Office Boys "Borrowers" of Large Sums.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—United States Senator Chandler is the chairman of the committee which will make an interesting report to the senate within the next few months in regard to national banks. The commission has been busy investigating the national bank failures of the last year or two, paying particular attention to the Maverick National Bank, of Boston, and the Keystone and the Spring Garden National Banks, of Philadelphia. A member of the committee says that the testimony which had been taken in connection with the committee's investigation into the failure of the Maverick bank would show some interesting things. Even office boys, he said, were down on the books of the bank as borrowers of sums of money running as high as $40,000. Another case that the committee found was that of a negro valet who was down on the books as the borrower of $30,000. The report of this committee will bear directly on the recommendations that have been made by Solicitor Hepburn, who has advised the adoption of changes of a sweeping nature in national bank laws.

ATTACK ON ITALY.

The Italian Flag Fired on and Burned in New York State.

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 1.—At Talcottville, a few miles from Gouverneur, St. Lawrence county, are located a number of shanties occupied by Italians, who are working on a new railroad. For a few weeks past they have had floating over their hats an Italian flag, which stirred up the wrath of the miners there. The other night the miners assaulted the Italians and demanded that they haul down the flag, or place an American flag above it. The Italians declined and drove the miners into their shanties. The flag was hauled down and burned. The Italians then opened fire on the miners with shotguns and pistols. They replied and riddled the shanties with shot. The battle lasted for half an hour. No serious injuries resulted, although some of the combatants were peppered with fine shot.

Great excitement prevails and another encounter is expected. Two of the riotous miners have been arrested. The attention of the Italian minister at Washington will be called to the matter.

Fairchild Denies It.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—In reference to the report that he had been offered the secretaryship of the treasury by Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Charles S. Fairchild today said that he had not, and never had, the slightest reason to suppose that Mr. Cleveland wished him to take any position under his administration.

IS THE GRIP COMING.

Everything Indicates its Speedy Approach. What the Indications Are Concerning It Abroad.

Reports from Europe which are appearing in the papers show that the grip has broken out in a most violent form in England, and the indications are that it is commencing its fourth annual tour of the world. The physicians here in America report many people suffering from symptoms which indicate the coming of this terrible scourge. While there may not yet be an epidemic, there are enough cases and enough serious cases to demand the greatest care and caution. The proverb, "In time of peace prepare for war," is one of the most valuable sayings ever uttered. The grip, with all its unpleasantness, with all its seriousness, with all its danger, can be prevented, if taken in time, and if people properly prepare for it. There is but one way to prepare for the coming of the grip, and that is to tone up the system, build up the energies, strengthen the life, and thus avoid its attacks by being thoroughly prepared for them. This cannot, however, be done except in one way: That way is by the use of some pure stimulant, which will help the vital forces, increasing the circulation and strengthening the life generally. There is, however, but one pure medicinal stimulant known to the medical world or the American people. That stimulant has been before the public for years, and has been exceedingly popular with both men and women. It is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It is not an ordinary whiskey, but a pure medicinal one. Its popularity is wonderful, and it is so exceedingly popular that it is so superior in every way. For preventing the coming of the grip it is unequalled, for it fortifies the system to withstand its attacks. Care should be taken that no drugist or grocer sells you some other whiskey which he may claim to be just as good. There is nothing which can take its place.
